WHO WE ARE

National Institute of Labour Economics Research and Development (NILERD), the only Institute of its kind, was established by the Government of India, in 1962. It is a Central Autonomous Organisation under NITI Aayog, Ministry of Planning, Government of India. The Director General of the Institute is appointed by the Government of India and holds the rank of Additional Secretary to the Central Government. The Institute is funded mainly by the grants-in-aid from NITI Aayog and supplemented by its own revenue generated from the research projects from different Ministries and multilateral organizations and sponsored training activities.

The Institute has achieved a marked position, both at the national and international level, in the field of research in labour and employment, skill development, monitoring and evaluation etc. It is a repository of knowledge and provides research services to the government, public/private sector, international organisations and other such agencies.

WHAT WE DO

NILERD conducts research and training in the field of human resource planning and development, structure and changing patterns of the labour market, monitoring and evaluation of public policies, dissemination of best practices and other initiatives to further the national development goals.
